

INTERESTED IN STORYTELLING?

You're invited to a Storytelling Workshop that will teach you how to craft and articulate your story. You'll also have an opportunity to build community as we listen and/or share stories.

Storytelling Workshop
Begins November 14, 2019
First Christian Church of Quincy
1415 Maine Street Quincy, IL

November 14th
6 p.m. - 9 p.m.
Crafting Your Story

November 15th
30-minute sessions
Available as needed
Fine tune your story

November 16th
9:00 a.m. - Noon | Drop in as needed
Evening Event
7:00 p.m. @ The Atrium
201 South 3rd Street
Listen and/or share your story

Meet our Instructor:

Rebecca Anderson has a Masters in Divinity from the University of Chicago and a Bachelors of Fine Arts in playwriting from Hampshire College (Amherst, MA). Rebecca's been on Snap Judgment (radio), and podcasts including The Broad Experience and Broccoli & Ice Cream. Active in the Chicago storytelling scene, she's performed with events like RISK!, 2nd Story, The Moth, and This Much is True. As a comic (back in the day), she was featured in The Boston Globe and The Christian Century. Rebecca has developed and teaches workshops designed to grow the practice of storytelling and foster interpersonal connections (more at EarshotStories.com).

Register today fccquincy.com/storytelling

This is a free workshop, sponsored by First Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) Quincy